Water Supply in Ancient Rome

The Frontinus Society has published the book “Die Wasserversorgung der Stadt Rom” (The Water Supply of the City of Rome). In it, W. Letzner and W. Merkel have translated, commented on and explained the "De Aquaeductu Urbis Romae" of Sextus Julius Frontinus into German while other authors contributed ten articles completing the picture of the ancient water supply and sanitation of Rome. The book can be ordered from the office of the Frontinus Society (Contact). Members can acquire the book for the special price of 30,00 €, and for students and adults under 25 years the cost is 22,00 €. For non-members the price is 35,00 €.

If we have excited your interest and you would like to become a member of the Frontinus Society, please click here.