

Water at the Iberian Peninsula

50 Years of Frontinus Society

International Conference of the Frontinus Society on the History of Water Management and Hydraulic Engineering

Segovia - Chaves, October 9-17, 2026

INVITATION AND CALL FOR PAPERS

As already announced at the last conference in Budapest in 2022, we will be on the Iberian Peninsula next year from 9-17 October 2026. However, in contrast to Budapest, where we mainly focussed on thermal baths, the topics in Spain and Portugal will be broader again.

The following list intends to suggest some of the topics which could be discussed at the conference:

- Newest research results on aqueducts
- The castellum aquae an important link
- The distribution of water in towns
- Supply of public nymphaea
- The distribution of water in private houses
- Supply of public baths and latrines
- Water in ancient mining
- Other industrial usage of water
- Other sources for drawing water
- Water in the middle ages
- Sewage disposal
- Water quality and hygiene in the ancient world

Innumerable questions of your newest research results await clarification ..... at the Iberian Peninsula

The conference will consist of two parts, all of which can also be booked individually:

1. The first part with the main block of lectures and some excursions in the area, as well as the ceremonial acts '50 Years Frontinus Society' and 'Awarding of the Frontinus Medal' will be in Segovia.
2. The second part with a separate lecture section on water in ancient mining and two full-day excursions to Tresminas and Las Medulas will take place in Chaves in Portugal.

FRONTINUS-GRANT

The Frontinus-Society offers up to three awards for students to assist with travel expenses. Participants who are still in training are requested to send their application material to Gilbert Wiplinger at the address indicated above no later than March 22, 2026 for consideration.

Prerequisites for this are

- * the submission of a scientific lecture,
- * the participation of scholarship holders in all lectures, excursions and other events during the symposium, and
- * accommodation in an accommodation near the venue.

Applications must include a curriculum vitae, a literature list (if available), an abstract of the lecture with approx. 3,000 characters (including spaces) and the reason why the applicant should be selected to receive the scholarship.

The amount of the scholarship is half of the congress fees and half of the accommodation costs, excluding travel expenses, but as maximum Euro 1.000,-.

Half of the scholarship will be paid after the scholarship is awarded before the conference, the other half after the conference.

With kind regards

Gilbert Wiplinger
